What: The 5th Local Seafood Summit will bring together thought-leaders, entrepreneurs, advocates, business owners, technical assistance providers, and change agents to celebrate the creativity, entrepreneurialism, and commitment of all those working to cultivate seafood systems that contribute to the health, prosperity, and sovereignty of coastal communities and the ecosystems upon which they depend on.

The goals of the summit are to: (1) facilitate knowledge sharing, relationship building, and networking within our community and beyond; (2) identify and share innovative strategies for strengthening, operationalizing, and promoting our work; (3) increasing our collective capacity to address the challenges we face.
